

Learning Objects

NADE 2008 Conference
Developmental Education:
The New Revolution
Boston Marriott Copley Place
February 27 – March 1, 2008

Librarians and Tutors Focusing on iSkills for Academic Success: Imbedding iSkills into the experience of development level students a presentation by Diane M. Smith, MLIS, Med and Lori E. Pennel, MBA

Information Handling

<http://mail.google.com/support/bin/topic.py?topic=1519>

Basic troubleshooting guide for the novice email user with specific instructions on how to filter SPAM emails and making sure those you want to receive emails from end up in your inbox.

<http://www.vtc.com/products/Adobe-Acrobat-7-tutorials.htm>

Great step-by-step tutorials on how to view, save and print a PDF document.

<http://www.vtc.com/products/word2003.htm>

A tutorial that covers most user functions of Microsoft Word and makes them simple to understand.

Database Searching

<http://www.ipl.org>

A librarian reviewed directory, with significant original content searchable by subject and keyword.

<http://www.digital-librarian.com>

A multi-disciplinary directory organized by subject

<http://www.lii.org>

An exhaustive online directory. Besides academic disciplines there are more popular subjects such as people and recreation

<http://www.refdesk.com>

Site dense in text, but many non traditional news and general interest subjects are covered

<http://support.epnet.com/training/tutorials.php>

Tutorials from EBSCO that assist the user in searching EBSCO databases.

Citing and Plagiarism

<http://library.camden.rutgers.edu/EducationalModule/Plagiarism/whatisplagiarism.html>

Credible (and humorous!) online tutorial about plagiarism, with music.

<http://www.k-state.edu/academicservices/intprop/webtutor/sld001.htm>

Good slide show overview on copyright and fair use.

Web-based Tools

<http://library.duke.edu/research/citing/> Duke University's Libraries, Citing Sources

Librarian created web-site that provides style guides for APA, Chicago, MLA, Turabian and CSE citation styles.

<http://www.noblenet.org/bhcc/databases.htm#noodletools> Noodle Tools

Subscription tool that allows the user to create works cited lists in MLA and APA citation styles.

<http://bibme.org/> BibMe,

Free web-based tool that creates works cited lists based on MLA, APA and Chicago citation styles.

<http://www.bloglines.com> Blog Lines and <http://www.google.com> Google Reader

Two of the many free feed readers (information aggregators) available. Feed readers allows the user to subscribe to feeds and view them at one place.

<http://ma.gnolia.com/> Ma.gnolia

One of many social book marking sites. Through a free registration, these sites allow the user to make lists of websites and categorize the sites by tags.

<http://www.librarything.com> LibraryThing

Website that allows users to create and maintain lists of books. You can even order them by call #.

Source Evaluation

<http://www.library.ucla.edu/libraries/college/help/critical/index.htm>

A checklist on considerations when evaluating a website.

<http://www.sunysb.edu/library/tutorial/mod2/07startlib.shtml>

Some basic information on evaluation.

<http://www.lib.berkeley.edu/TeachingLib/Guides/Evaluation.html>

<http://lib.nmsu.edu/instruction/evalcrit.html>

<http://www.library.cornell.edu/olinuris/ref/research/skill26.htm>

These librarian created sites are all good sources of evaluation links. The Cornell page has the most textual information.